

INTERNATIONAL INTERDISCIPLINARY CONFERENCE

Religious Freedom and Education

CALL FOR PAPERS

9–10 October 2020

Nicolaus Copernicus University in Toruń, Poland

- Religious freedom is a fundamental human right which lies at the core of the individual's worldview. As an element of the one's identity, it is manifested also through educational institutions. The question arises to what extent religious freedom in education is and should be recognised How to balance it with the requirement of neutrality and other principles necessary in a democratic state? How can insights from theory and practice be integrated? Most importantly, what can theorists from different fields learn from each other's work?
- The aim of this conference is to bring together experts from law, theology and education to explore the role of religious freedom in education, both within and across disciplinary boundaries.
- Please submit your abstract to educationconference@umk.pl by 30 June 2020 together with your name, position and university affiliation. The abstract should be no longer than 250 words. The organizers recommend that it includes a compendious summary of a paper with the objectives, background, method, and conclusions. Each talk will last 15 minutes.
- After you submit your abstract you will be acknowledged of the receipt of the abstract via an email within two working days. The abstract will undergo a double-blind peer-review process by the conference scientific committee and the results will be sent to the author by the 20th of July. If you are not receiving an email from us set your email spam filter to accept messages from educationconference@umk.pl and/or contact us.
- There are no fees for the conference.
- More information on www.educationconference.umk.pl